CLASS REPRESENTATIVES

RANDY BROCKMAN - At this time of the year graduation or commencement exercises are being held all over our country. These range from kindergarten to college graduations. This is also true of our Lutheran schools and colleges, and many of them are conducting services this very evening.

It is the custom with many schools to select pupils to speak as representatives for their class. I consider it a privilege to have been selected to speak a few words this evening.

This evening we are being graduated from our Lutheran School where all of our education and training was Christ centered. Now as we continue our education and training we will meet different people and engage in many different activities. May we remember that God is beside us in all we do, and may it be our faith and confidence that He will protect us from all evil and dangers. He has asked us to call upon Him in every trouble and has promised to hear us.

I feel sure that I am speaking for the entire class of 1965 when I say that we are very appreciative of all that has been done for us by our parents, pastors, and teachers through our Lutheran School.

MARILYN JAGELS - We have just received our diplomas which indicate that we have completed eight years of elementary training. We should always be thankful for the privilege of having received a Christian training during these years.

The motto, "Be Thou My Strength in Weakness", which our class has selected will be meaningful only if we keep it in mind and apply it. As we go on in life we will find that we have many weaknesses. The devil, the world, and our sinful flesh constantly tempt us, and may weaken our Christian faith. So we realize that we need God's strength to overcome these weaknesses.

Pastor Meyer, in behalf of our class and all others present, I thank you for your wonderful message.

At this time we also remember that the late Pastor Boehne of this congregation served us faithfully in instructing us in the one thing needful.

May the joy of this evening never fade away.

DONALD ECKHOFF - It is a privilege to have been chosen to add a few more thoughts to what has been said by other 1965 class representatives.

We have just finished our class song. "Jesus, Lead Thou On" is an excellent prayer to have in our minds and hearts as we leave our Lutheran School. It is a prayer expressing the confidence we have in Him if He leads. We also promise that we will follow Him in all of our undertakings.

As we grow older we will be confronted with many more decisions. Many times we will face problems that will look hopeless, but our trust in Him through prayer will change this hopelessness into hope.

As time goes on a few will continue, we hope, in our secondary Lutheran schools to be of full-time service to the Lord and His Church. Here will be Christian leadership. We are also very thankful that our local R-1 School with its many faculty members is guided by Christian teachers and officials.

Our class appreciates this large attendance. Finally, we appreciate the efforts of all who have done so much for us.

Dear Christian Graduates,

Beloved, now are ye the sons and daughters of God! What better relationship could you think of? What greater names could you be called? Your parents are your God-given overseers. Your teachers have attempted to assist. BUT! Your GOD is your "strength" at all times. He not only CAN, but WILL help if you come to Him in prayer. May your motto always stay in focus.

You are the Lord's; may it always be said so of you. Our richest blessings to each and everyone of you in the years that lie ahead. and may the eternal values always be uppermost in your hearts and minds.

The four teachers

A MESSAGE FROM THE PASTORS

Dear Graduates,

Graduation is a happy time, and well it should be. You have waited for a number of years to reach this day. But Graduation should also have its serious side as you consider the importance of learning, and the use of learning. It has been our privilege to have had the opportunity to teach you the most important truths one can ever learn. And the most precious jewels you can carry away from your years of learning in the Lutheran School are the priceless jewels of faith and life in Christ Jesus our Savior. The writer of the book of Ecclesiastes says to us "Fear God and keep His commandments, for this is the whole duty of man." May you, as you leave our school, take this gem with you and let it guide your thinking and your doing throughout your life. Knowing Christ as your Savior, and God's will for your life, and having received strength by the power of the Holy Spirit may you continue to live and serve to the glory of His name. This is our prayer for you as you graduate in this class of '65.

With sincere congratulations,

Pastor Krout

To the Graduates of Class 1965,

Your motto: "Thou art My Strength in Weakness" and the song you have chosen: "Jesus Lead Thou On", express the sentiment of Christians, and also of Christians your age.

In the years to come you will experience the need of strength in the Lord. You will also need the leading and guidance of the Good Shepherd, Jesus your Savior.

My sincere wish to all of you is that at all times you keep the prayer of your motto in mind, and always follow Jesus the Captain of your salvation.

Rev. Arthur G. Kuecker

WHERE WE CAME FROM

In 1957, 4 boys and two girls, Francis Root, Kenneth Heimsoth, Donald Eckhoff, Lloyd Heisterberg, Dorothy Schuette, and I, Patricia Denker, began our exploratory trip through space guided by Mrs. Hesse.

We explored Mars after our ship was damaged in the landing. We saw a couple funny creatures chasing each other through some brush and decided to take up the chase. They couldn't run very fast and we quickly caught up with them. We decided to take them along with us and named them Bonnie Hayward and Dianne Brandt. After our ship had been repaired, by some monkey mechanics, we changed our guide to Miss Schnakenberg and continued on our trip.

In 1960 we went to Mercury. On the way we noticed something hooked onto the side of our ship. We went out to investigate and tried to figure out what this thing was. Suddenly the top of the space-bug opened and this tall creature jumped from its space-bug into our ship. We tried to get it out, but it was so gigantic, that after it got in, it was impossible to get it out. So we simply named it Randy Brockman and took him along.

As we landed on Mercury, two little boys came running toward our ship, as if welcoming us. We didn't know what to think, so we decided to invite them in. When they had taken off their space suits, we thought they looked like someone we used to know on earth, so we named them after our earthlings, whose names had been, Darrel Ehlers and Paul Luetjen.

In 1961, we decided not to explore Mercury, but changed our guide to Mr. Fadler and took our two new friends along. We planned on exploring Venus next, but decided to continue on to Saturn. As we neared Saturn, we noticed something walking around on Saturn's ring. As we passed the ring, the thing we supposed was another friend got hold of the tail of our ship and slowly crawled toward the door. We let it in and named it Betty Henning.

We had left Mercury with the intentions of going to Saturn, but our driver missed it and we ended up on Pluto. While we explored this planet, some creatures got in our space-ship and though our ship was, by this time getting crowded, we decided to take them along, too. We named them Ellen Heimsoth, Mary Lou Bockelman, Elaine Viets, Margaret Zimmerschied, Marilyn Jagels, Lucille Grother, and James Vajen.

In 1963, we changed our guide for the last time to Mr. Schnell. He thought it would be a good idea to tour the moon, so we headed for the moon. The landing was a bit shaky, but we supposed that was normal and didn't think much of it. As we descended from our ship, we heard someone hollering "Help!" We investigated and found a short-something and a tall-something in the bottom of a crater. We just happened to have a long rope with us, so we pulled them from the hole and quickly named them Wayne Meyer (the short-something) and Lynn Mabe (the tall something). As usual, we decided to drag them along.

Having enjoyed a wonderful trip, we all turned toward home, with the exception of Lynn Mabe, who got lost somewhere in space, and although we looked for him, we never did find him. We were sorry we had lost him, he was such a pal, but nevertheless we headed toward home without him. So here we are, all twenty of us.

WHERE WE WILL BE

One sunny day in July, 1984, Frank Root, a famous drummer, Wayne Meyer, a famous business executive, Randy Brockman, and I, Donald Eckhoff, famous race car drivers, are starting out at Los Angeles where we first saw the Dodgers and the Mets play, with Lloyd Heisterberg as shortstop for the Mets. The Mets finally won 10 to 0.

We took a boat to Hawaii, where we found on the boat Mary Lou Bockelman as the captain. When we arrived at Hawaii we checked in at the Honolulu Hotel where we found Patricia Denker as the manager. As we signed the book Patricia called a bell hop, James Vajen, to carry our bags to our room.

Next we flew to Tokyo, Japan, where we found Bonnie Hayward as our taxi driver. After arriving at our country house we saw Margaret Zimmerschied and Elaine Viets working in the rice fields, which they own, 500 acres.

We left Japan to visit Paul Luetjen in his mansion, where he is President of the Philippine Islands.

From there we flew to Arabia where we visited Ellen Heimsoth's Arabian Horse Ranch. Lucille Grother is her horse trainer.

Next we flew to Paris, France, where we found on the plane Darrel Ehlers as the pilot and Kenneth Heimsoth as the co-pilot. We found Marilyn Jagels as a famous hair-stylist there.

We flew from Paris to Brazil where we found Dianne Brandt as the owner of a large coffee plantation with Dorothy Schuette as the co-owner.

Then we flew to Mexico City, Mexico where we saw Betty Henning as one of the most popular tourist guides.

From there we flew to Kansas City where Wayne left us to look after his World Series Champion "Cosmos" (formerly the Athletics). He was sole owner of the team and had never operated in the red.

We flew to Liverpool, England, to leave Frank, who replaced Ringo Starr as drummer for the Beatles, where he is already a bigger hit than Ringo was.

From there Randy and I flew to Europe to place first and second in the Le Man's Race driving Ford built GT's.

UNUSUAL EVENTS

25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

We surprised Mrs. Hesse for her 25th wedding anniversary by giving an anniversary party for Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hesse. The parents and children contributed silver coins. One of the mothers baked a cake. It was surprising how everyone and especially the first and second graders kept the secret.

We wish Mr. and Mrs. Hesse many more happy and blessed anniversaries.

We had a very surprising snow this past winter. We were beginning to have spring weather when a few days later it began to snow. The snow was so deep it was impossible to have school. But let the Lord, who reigns over all, also rule the weather.

About the first two weeks of the school term the fourth to the eighth grade took some tests on different school subjects, to test their ability for college.

(UNUSUAL continued)

There was an unusual happening one morning in April. The flag pole rope had dissappeared.

In one spelling unit every member of the seventh grade got 100%.

OTHER NEWS

PICNIC

We had our school picnic on May 18 at Mr. Leonard Granneman's pasture.

At noon we had a sack lunch. We received ice cream from Milton Heimsoth.

The morning and afternoon were spent by playing games.

When we returned to the school we each had a bottle of pop. All had a wonderful time.

FLOAT

Our float entitled "I Can Run" was awarded the grand prize at annual Cole Camp Fair. This was accomplished by the excellent help of parents and children. We also appreciate the help given by others who did not have pupils enrolled.

BIBLES

Members of the Gideons were here from Sedalia on Wednesday, April 7, 1965, and gave each child in the upper grades a Bible with the New Testament, Psalms, and Proverbs. Three beautiful new Bibles were given to the school.

MARCH OF DIMES

Our contribution to the March of Dimes this year was $45.23.

STAMPS

The total amount of money spent for stamps this year was $809.00. Forty-one pupils bought bonds. Sixty-seven bought stamps.

SPORTS

On March 9 the seventh and eighth grade girls played volleyball against R-1 seventh and eighth grade girls in their gymnasium and lost by a score of 51 to 28.

The seventh and eighth grade boys played basketball the same afternoon against R-1 seventh and eighth grade boys and lost by a score of 31 to 27.

Our ball fields see continuous activity whenever weather permits. One feels that a world series game is being played every day.

JEFFERSON CITY

On April 29th the pupils of grades seven and eight visited the state capitol and several other places of interest in Jefferson City. Besides being an interesting trip, it was also very educational. All were introduced in both Houses. The guided tour taught us much. The visit at the large Trinity Lutheran Church and School was a treat.

Mr. Schnell asked for an ice cream cone from each child on the return trip, but he didn't get it.

GIFT

Our school has been accepted as the local Branch of the Lutheran Brotherhood Insurance Company. So we received a nice amount of money. It has not yet been determined by the Board of Directors how it will be used.

This is highly appreciated.

LUNCH PROGRAM

Mrs. Brockman and Mrs. Henning have served the school children and teachers excellent food during the past year. Thanks!

Mr. John Fadler was graduated from our Concordia Teachers' College at Seward, Nebraska. He served two years as teacher of all eight grades at Holy Cross Congregation. When the Lutheran School Association became a reality he was called by the Board of Directors to serve on our faculty and teach grades five and six. His ability to direct athletics is worthy of note. His help in the caring for the school property has gone a long way, not to mention disposing of empty milk cartons and waste paper.

Mr. Fadler's services to Holy Cross Congregation have been carried out with sincerity. The Lord's blessings to you, Mr. Fadler, from the Class of 1965 and all others!
