

Lutheran School Association

No one knows what lies ahead for each of us in life. We do know that there will be trials, difficulties, and hardships, as well as many different kinds of temptations. All of these "darknesses" may cloud our lives until we don't know which way to turn. But there is a "Light" that will show us the way---GOD'S WORD. Remember what you have been taught in this school and continue to study the Word faithfully so that by the power of God given through His Word, you may be able to face whatever comes your way in life. Let it guide you through the darknesses to the clear light of an eternal day in heaven.

--The Faculty

The group pictures and many of the action pictures in this yearbook were taken compliments of Rick Bias of Bias Studio, Versailles, MO.

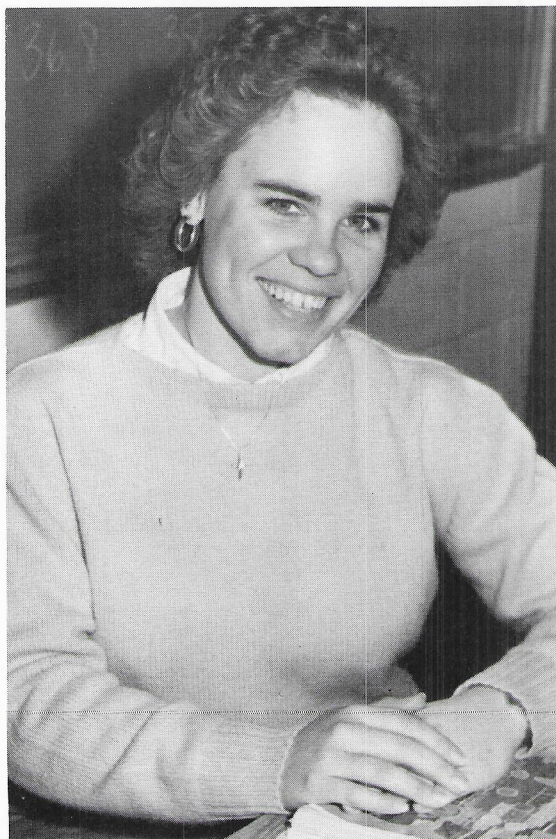

IN APPRECIATION

"Suffer the little children to come unto Me and forbid them not; for of such is the Kingdom of God." (Mark 10:14)

Mrs. Helen Hesse has faithfully taught the children of our Lutheran School for 32 years. Upon her retirement this year, we would like to express our sincere gratitude and heartfelt thanks for her dedication and loving concern in educating our children and in teaching them the most important lesson of all - God's Word.

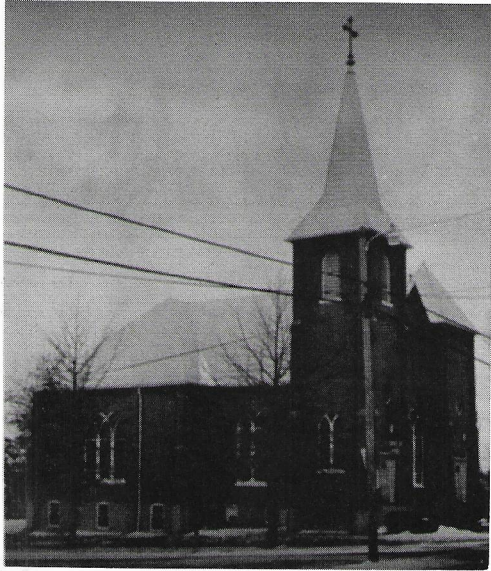

Our love and our best wishes go out to you, Mrs. Hesse. May you have much happiness in your retirement and may God bless you richly!

MISS MARTHA KOCH

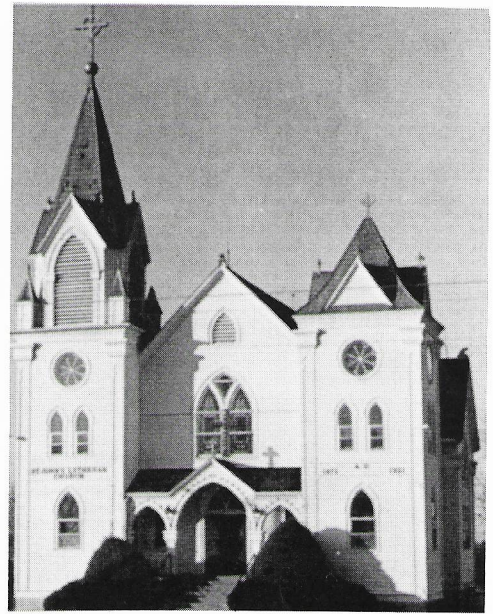

DEDICATION

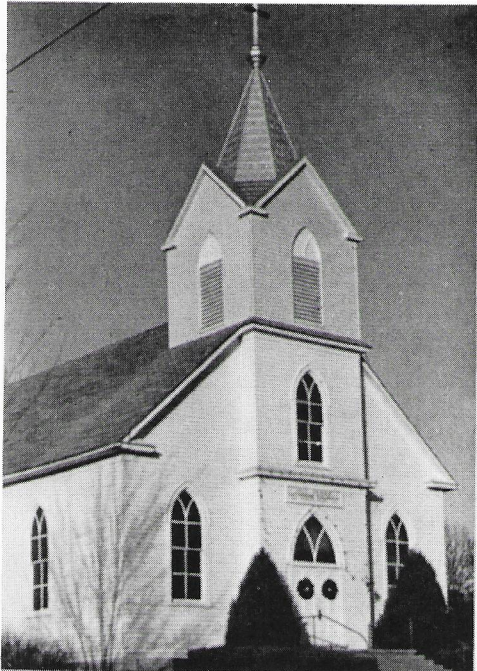

We, the eighth grade class, are proud to dedicate this yearbook of 1984-1985 to Miss Martha Koch, who is a great teacher and good friend. We were her first sixth grade class. We are dedicating this yearbook in appreciation of her slow temper, sense of humor, and patience and understanding. We wish her well in the future and hope her life is a happy one.

CLASS HISTORY

In 1978, Jeff Meyer, Duane Karman, and Heath Roark started out in the Lybian Desert on a camel caravan, trying to get to the Bahamas for a vacation with their fearless guide, Mrs. Helen Hesse. After a short while, our camels died, so we had to go on on foot. As we walked 150 miles, we found Michael Bauer building a sand castle to rent as a motel for scorpions. We decided to let him come with us. Later, we came into a village to buy camels. Heath said that his cousin, Mark Pitts owned a camel ranch. We went there and bought some camels. Mark wanted to come with us so we let him. Mrs. Hesse, liking camels, stayed to run the ranch.

We went over to the local bar to get a sody pop and the bartender was Mrs. Cathy Viets. We asked her if she knew of any good guides, because we lost our first one. She said she knew the territory pretty well, and she would like to be our guide. We told her we didn't have much money, but we were good company. As we started off, we saw a nice house in the middle of nowhere and went to take a closer look. Miss Malu Helsley came out with a bow and arrow and told us to get off her land. Mrs. Viets, who also happened to be a part-time real estate agent, liked the nice house and the privacy it offered, so she talked Miss Helsley into putting down her weapon and into selling the house and property to her.

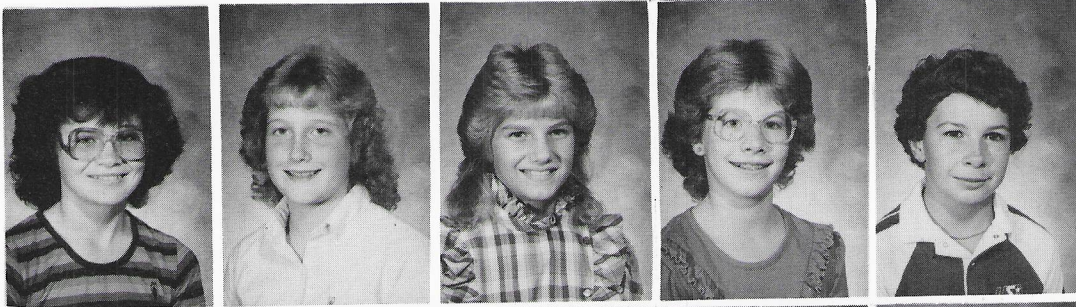

We were once more without a guide. Miss Helsley had compassion on us and told us she would be our guide. We traveled many, many miles before we came to a cactus farm. Miss Helsley fell in love with the owner and decided to stay and get married.

After that, we decided to go on our own. We got hungry and decided to get a bite to eat. Everything was closed except Koch's Cookies. We parked our camels, went in, and got some cookies. While we were eating them we told Miss Martha Koch, the owner, our life story. She said she knew the land like the back of her cookie sheet. So once again, we started off.

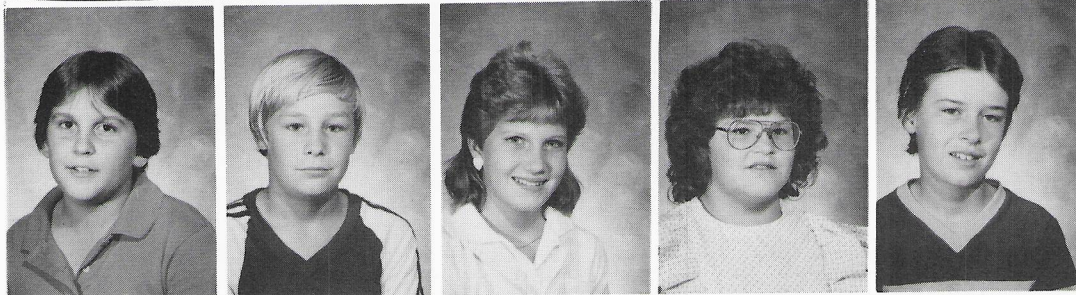

After we had walked awhile, we came upon a big rock pile. A Neanderthal man jumped out and grabbed Miss Koch! He carried her off as she yelled, "Oh, my cookies!" And we never saw her again. As we trudged along, we saw a man yelling, "Water, water." Of course, it was a mirage but the man was real! It was Mr. Arlin Bauer! Since we had heard about him, we tried to sneak by. Unfortunately, he saw us so we started to run! He chased us yelling, "Sections! Sections!" Finally, he caught up with us after a few thousand miles, and after suffering from blisters on his feet and a terrible back-ache, he let us go.

Once more, we were alone. After we had gone a few more thousand miles, we came to a large ocean. As we looked across the horizon, we saw a small island. Luckily, our camels were good swimmers. After a while, our camels drowned because of exhaustion, so we started to swim. After a day and a half, we made it to the island. We looked around and saw a big sign that said, "Welcome to the Bahamas!" We finally made it to our destination! It was a long, hard journey, but all in all, it was a pretty good eight years.
