Class Prophecy

In the year of 2017 one member of the 8th grade class, Kaylee Uptegrove, was babysitting in her new Winnie the Pooh theme daycare center. The kids she was watching were playing hide-and-go-seek. Kaylee found all of the kids except for one. When she finally found him he was in a closet looking at some old yearbooks. When the kids all went home Kaylee decided to take a look at some of the yearbooks from when she was in grade school at Lutheran School Association in Cole Camp. As she looked at the books she really started to miss her 8th grade class. So she decided to have a reunion for her old class, but she had to find them all first. She decided to start with her best friend Katie Schlesselman, who she knew, was in Orange County, California living her dream as a professional photographer. When Kaylee got to California she headed to the largest big cat preserve in the world, which was owned by Megan Metzner and her co-owner Casey Eckhoff. When she got to the preserve she immediately saw Katie snapping pictures of the lions. Kaylee talked to Katie about the reunion and Katie agreed right away. She too was missing her old classmates. Katie took Kaylee to where Megan and Casey were and were surprised to find Shallie Harms with them as well. Shallie was at the preserve to check out one of Megan's favorite photography cats, Demitri, the Bengal tiger. Shallie was a vet and got the job offer from Casey to work at their preserve. After Kaylee told Megan, Shallie, and Casey of her reunion party they all agreed. Better yet Megan had been keeping in touch with Riley Henning, so she knew just where to find him! So they all flew to St. Louis, Missouri and got 5 tickets to go see Riley in the World Series. Riley was the St. Louis Cardinals star pitcher, and (much to the surprise of all the girls) Zach Kollbaum was the St. Louis Cardinals catcher. Riley had just thrown the last pitch for the Cardinals and struck the guy out! The Zach got a home run to win the game for the Cardinals. The Cardinals had won the World Series, thanks to Zach and Riley! After the game Riley and Zach met up with the girls and Kaylee told them of her party plans. Riley and Zach thought it was a great idea. Both the boys knew where Shane Hoehns was. Shane was a St. Louis Ram's football player. Right now Shane was suing a local salon for $1000 for messing up his perm! Kaylee, Katie, Megan, Shallie, Casey, Riley, and Zach decided to go to Shane's court hearing. When they got there they found out that Kelly Kullman was Shane's lawyer and Samantha Henley was his occupational therapist. Shane won the case thanks to Kelly's good lawyer skills and after hearing Kaylee's plan Shane decided to give the money to the party fund. Now the team had only 2 people left to find Taron Luetjen and Joseph Andersen. Taron was a famous country singer and Joe was a famous guitarist. Sam said that she had received in mail the other day some tickets to Taron's show in Columbia, Missouri. So the whole team except for Shane and Sam decide to go to the concert to find Taron. Shane was taking his messed up perm pretty hard and Sam, being his therapist, stayed with him to get him through it, but they said they would meet up with everybody in Cole Camp. When the others got to the concert Taron recognized them in the crowd and invited them to come back stage with her. Backstage Kaylee once again told Taron of her plan for a reunion. Taron said it was a great idea and couldn't wait to come. Now all they had to do was find Joe and the whole class would be back together. But it turned out that Joe was touring with Taron. So now that the whole class would be back together they all decided to go back to Cole Camp to find their old teacher, Mrs. MacLean. They learned that Mrs. MacLean had had 7 more children since they all had been gone. Mrs. MacLean loved the idea of a party and her whole family came. The party was a great success and the 8th grade class of 2006-07 couldn't wait until they could do it again.
