

Dedication

Pastor Todd and Angela Kollbaum

Pastor Todd and Angie Kollbaum were dedicated workers at LSA and helped make a lot of things possible. Pastor Kollbaum was a minister at Trinity for 8 years and led many chapel services and religion classes at LSA. Angie was an athletic director for 7 years. Both will be missed greatly for all their hard work. We wish you the best of luck in the future.

In Memory Of Dorothy Stoermer

Dorothy Stoermer was a dedicated librarian who showed all of us what it meant to be a true believer in God. She worked as a librarian at LSA for 33 years. She loved seeing kids when they came to the library. Dorothy inspired and encouraged many kids to read. Dorothy Stoermer is greatly missed by all the people who were a part of her life.

CLASS PROPHECY

Here I am, old Pastor Todd again. Recently I had an opportunity to get together with the LSA graduating class of 2013. Having been the first kindergarten class at the LSA, this class has a special history. However, this was a special class in a lot of ways ... here are some of the ways things have turned out...

Casey Bahrenberg – Casey, having come off of her stellar performance on the U.S. Olympic Volleyball Team, started her own travelling VB training camp called Country Girls Volleyballpalooza. She and her “country girls” travel all over the U.S. to rural towns to train other young girls how to play the sport she loves.

Skylar & Tessia Balke – Not to be outdone by their former classmate Casey, Skylar & Tessia, following the XXXII Olympiad, opened up their own softball training facility The Twins Triple Play Training Tower of Tenacity back in Cole Camp. Drove of young girls flock to this, the country’s premiere softball training facility.

Austin Berendzen – In one of the greatest surprises of the LSA class of 2013, Austin, through much training and a well timed growth spurt, now plays center for the Kansas City Chiefs after finishing his college career under the fantastic offensive line tutelage of Head Coach Kirk Ferentz of the University of Iowa Hawkeyes.

Andrea Brockman – Andrea’s Finishing School for Girls is Andrea Brockman’s newest endeavor. After shutting her head in a car door the summer after her eighth grade graduation, Andrea committed herself to becoming the premier instructor in what she calls the 4 G’s Grace, Glamour, Glitz and gorgeousness.

Ryan Kollbaum – Having finished his career as an Iowa Hawkeye baseball player, Ryan now splits his time between playing for the St. Louis Cardinals and taking classes at Concordia Seminary St. Louis. He plans to be team chaplain when he can no longer play the game. Ryan also enjoys some notoriety for his video series, “How To Sneak Up On People and Make Them Scream and Laugh in Yearbook Class and Other Places”.

Adisen Harms – Adisen has really found his niche. Having founded a new and wildly popular game which combines basketball and football, “Footbasketball”. He has also shown his entrepreneurial spirit in designing custom tooth orthotics for kids who run into stuff with their mouths. The selling point of these dental implants is that “they are guaranteed to stay put no matter how many times you try to break them out”.

Josilyn Harms – Miss Harms is now like teaching like grammar to like students in like the eighth grade. She is like the best teacher the kids have like ever known. Josilyn has also like been lobbying to like rewrite grammar rules like allowing the use of like repetitively in like all parts of speech.

Bailey Heimsoth – Buzzer-Beater Bailey is how she is now known. After clinching the NCAA Women’s Basketball Championship for Missouri with a 3 at the buzzer, she was drafted into the WNBA. She now plays for the Minnesota Lynx and travels in the off season giving motivational speeches at High Schools and Junior High’s around the country.

Reece Henning – Reece now hosts his own hunting and fishing show “Reclin ‘em in with Red”. Reece, having become the nation’s top bass fisherman, frog gigger and squirrel hunter. He hosts his show from the Henning farm in good old Benton County.

Vance Hesse – Following in his mother’s footsteps, Vance started competing in local 5k runs. Finding that not challenging enough he kept moving his way up through the marathon circuit and finally ended up being the top Ironman Triathlete in the nation. He has now developed an ultra-sport challenge called “The Big Diesel Octathlon”.

Kendrick Logan – K-Lo Productions is Kendrick’s new rap recording studio. Kendrick has created a new niche in the rap market called “DDRS” or Duck Dynasty Rap Stylin’. His posse of rappers look like ZZ Top, rap like 50 Cent and hunt like Ted Nugent. They are taking the music/sportsman/recording world by storm.

Alyssa Ochrichs – Talk about a revolutionary thinker, Alyssa has taken one of her favorite games and made it into a national pastime. Pterodactyl is now a household word as everyone is playing the new Patch Products game and they have Alyssa to thank. And, as of this writing, no one has beat her!

Anthony Owens – Anthony has become quite an accomplished writer. He penned the “The Thirsty Activities” Trilogy. While some thought this was a knock off of the Hunger Games, it has become widely popular. “The Thirsty Activities” follows the life of a young boy who lives in a country where there is plenty for everyone and every year they choose one kid from each region of the country to go around and give people tasty things to drink and do random acts of kindness.

Mary Owens – Mary has taken her love of hanging out with friends and hitting people and developed a new social media sight “FaceSlap”. Here you can “slap” your friends messages and they can “slap” you back. It has grown so popular that it has completely eclipsed Facebook and now Mark Zuckerberg works for her.

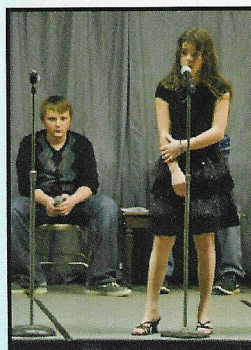

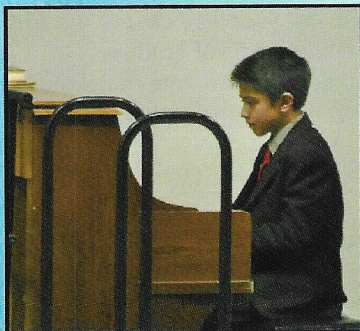

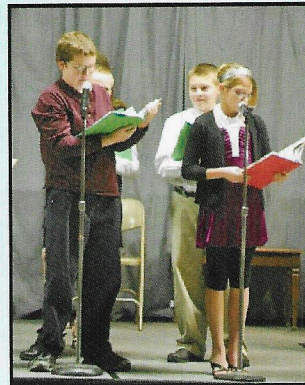

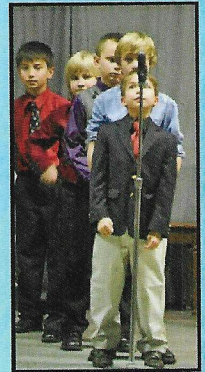

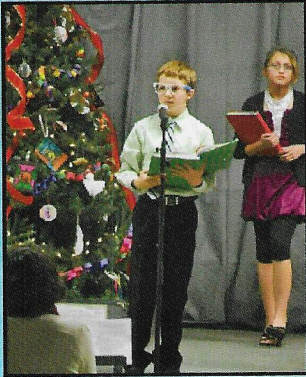

Taylor Riley – “If Horses Could Talk” is the name of Taylor’s newest book about her passion, horses. Other titles Taylor has published, “How To Give Your Horse A Pedicure, And What To Do If You Spill The Polish” and “If The Question Is You Or The Horse, You Better Start Whinnying”. Taylor’s books have not only been popular in the equine world but because of their life lessons, have been New York Times Bestsellers repeatedly.

Hannah Schlesselman – In an interesting turn of events, Hannah has become a world renown dress designer. She now hosts “Love That Dress” a reality television show on the new Hair & Nails Television Network.

Eli Schroeder – Eli has taken possession of his parents RV and now travels the country as Hukullbary Hill Huddles, an “On The Road” FCA Experience. Eli has taken his love of sports and his faith and shares that with youth all over the nation for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes through “Open Gym Leadership Camps”.
